Free U conducts draft seminar

By NORMA TIRRELL
Montana Kaimin Reporter

Mock interviews between a student and his Selective Service counselor and his draft board were conducted at a Free University Seminar last night.

The purpose of the seminar, conducted by Rev. Jon Nelson and three staff members of the UM Selective Service Information Center (SSIC), was to show students how to file for a conscientious objector (CO) status.

Jeff Miller, SSIC coordinator, explained the options available to students who adhere to an anti-military conscience.

He described two broad CO categories. The CO with a 1-A0 classification still must enter the military, but in a noncombatant capacity.

"1-A0 is the easiest CO classification to obtain, but the hardest to maintain," said Miller, "for the individual is personally nonviolent, but must work within the military structure."

The other CO classification, 1-0, allows a non-military position, but requires alternative, civilian service in the national interest of health and safety. Many Montana CO's work in the Boulder River

School for mentally retarded children, Miller said.

Reviewing some of the major Supreme Court decisions concerning the selective service, Mike Wisocki, director of SSIC, said the CO classification has been written

Curtain to rise on 'Barabbas'

The drama department's third production of the 1970-71 season, "Barabbas," will open tonight at 8:15 in the University Theater.

Iraj Sami, graduate student in drama from Iran, will perform in the title role of the play written by Michel de Ghelderode. Peggy Dodson, junior in drama, will play the role of Mary Magdalen.

Director Rolland Meinholz, instructor of drama, said the "traditional story of Barabbas is one of the most shattering stories of human good and evil ever told."

"Most of us do not have the courage to be a Barabbas, the pure anti-Christ, and we cannot possibly be a Jesus, so we wallow in the putrefaction of hypocrisy, hopefully too insensitive to know what we do," Meinholz said.

into the law, so the local boards must comply with that law.

Wisocki said the driving force behind his capacity as a draft counselor lies in the fact that he simply "does not believe in armies."

"Because I am especially interested in seeing a CO case develop from its very beginnings, all the way to a court case, I counsel strategically and tactically," Wisocki said.

Selective Service head named

Mike Wisocki, director of the UM Selective Service Information Center, said Tuesday he views Adjutant Gen. John Womack, newly-appointed administrator of the Montana Selective Service Board, as "a possible jeopardy to the state system because he is inexperienced in that capacity."

Announcement of Womack's appointment came yesterday from acting director Col. Floyd Finnegan who took office Tuesday after Col. Don Redpath, former director, was forced from his job.

Retirement papers also are being processed for Finnegan.

Wisocki said Womack's only experience with the Selective Service

CB against change in requirement

Central Board last night passed a resolution opposing proposed curriculum changes that would increase credit requirements in courses outside a student's major.

The present requirement of 36 credit hours in group requirements would be increased to 40 credits, and courses applying to a major would not be counted as part of the group requirement. The change was proposed by Curriculum Committee earlier this week.

John Murphy, off-campus delegate, will present a resolution to President Pantzer asking that the Oval committee be established as a permanent policy-making body in regard to all physical plant activities on campus.

The Oval committee was established this fall as a temporary committee to investigate the removal of the teepee burner sculpture from the Oval.

The physical plant would be required to present a worksheet to the committee for approval before carrying out activities for physical change on campus. Murphy cited as an example of physical change the plan to widen the sidewalks around the Oval during Christmas break.

In other business, CB allocated $200 for publication of an ASUM newsletter twice a week during Winter Quarter. The information sheet would be published to inform students of the agenda of upcoming CB meetings and what action was taken during meetings.

Randy Gray, sophomore in economics, who recommended the publication, said he thought this would eliminate the lack of communication between ASUM and the student body. Jim Waltermire, ASUM business manager, agreed, saying that the Montana Kaimin does not give ASUM activities adequate coverage, and that there is a need for a separate publication.

Central Board turned down a request from Model United Nations for an allocation of $2,700. ASUM President Jack Green said he and other members of CB had investigated the request and did not believe that ASUM funds should be used to sponsor a high school group. He also said that part of the funds would affect only a few members of MUN who will attend a conference in Los Angeles.

A request for an allocation of $540 from the Karate Club was tabled until the next meeting, pending investigation of the organization and the fund's intended use.

The laws for a proposed student judicial system were presented to the members of CB for study. The system, which is still pending approval by President Pantzer, would allow students to appeal disciplinary charges to a student court for a final decision.

Clayton Schenck, Publications Commission chairman, told CB that the student legal rights handbook is now available in the UC Sentinel Office afternoons from 1 to 5 p.m. before Christmas.

Navy barge dumps oil along Florida coast

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A massive oil slick covering 760 square miles was located yesterday in the Atlantic Ocean 23 miles off north Florida. A spokesman for the state said the U.S. Navy deliberately dumped it.

The heavy black fuel oil posed a threat along 50 miles of sandy beaches from the Georgia state line to St. Augustine, the spokesman said.

"This is not a spill; this is a dump," said Randolph Hodges, director of the State Natural Resources Department at Tallahassee.

The Navy at Jacksonville said it had dumped "a quantity of sludge from two barges into the ocean" Monday night but Capt. Don Dietz of Mayport Naval Station said this material is usually about 90 percent water.

State Marine Patrol officials estimated the slick was 40 miles long and 19 miles wide.

The official Navy statement said Mayport Naval Station at the mouth of the St. Johns River "has used this procedure for the past two years, as required by the Oil Pollution Act of 1924. It is done periodically over 50 miles from land."

This is similar to the traditional method of ships blowing their bilge at sea, the Navy said.

day, Womack said it is traditional to retire after 30 years of military service, and that Redpath already has served his 30 years in the Army.

An aide to Gov. Anderson said last week Redpath's resignation was being requested because of a Nixon administration policy to find younger men for Selective Service posts.

Redpath is 52; Womack is 50. Womack said he definitely plans to fill to two other administrative posts, assistant director and field director, with younger men.

"I would like to find two young men with military experience who can speak the language of the younger generation," Womack said.

Sue the bastards

Del Brown, coordinator of Student Facilities Council, just couldn't resist. A gnome in our "liberal" Administration, Brown followed his superiors' lead and indulged in a little subtle bullying of students Tuesday himself. He, being a gnome, thought it would slip by like a quiet fart. Sorry, Del, it stinks.

The council that Brown coordinates, or uncoordinates, got very left-wing Tuesday and recommended to President Pantzer that women who have been in dorm residency for six quarters or women who have completed 90 credits (which means their accumulation of credits has to be as regular as their menstrual cycle) may move of campus, effective Winter Quarter.

This still would not give women the same rights that male students now have.

Brown said that students should be aware of the problems that might arise if the proposal is approved by Pantzer. Bonds must be met, and if residence halls are unable to meet them, money will have to be taken from other programs, Del reminded.

Other student facility programs, no doubt, eh Del?

In disputes between property rights and individual liberty, individual liberty must always prevail. This is not what is happening here.

The Administration, after years of operation in violation of the Constitution, has the incredible gall to tell us that we must not demand changes immediately. We accepted this, trying to be reasonable. Now in the process of the begrudged change, they imply that these liberties will cost us some student programs.

This is even more incredible. To combat warden-like administrators or discriminatory landlords, student money must now be set aside for lawyers. It can be easily done. The ACLU rather enjoys taking cases like these.

In order to have some real power and be respected by all manipulators, it has become apparent that we will have to sue the bastards.

Pressman boosts Socialist Labor Party

To the Editor of the Kaimin:

Thank you for sending me the issue of Nov. 4. As one who is always seeking knowledge, I am pleased to learn that "Kamin" (sic) is an Indian name meaning "something written" or "message."

The AP Washington dispatch you carried Nov. 4 was in error regarding the candidates in New York that ran for U.S. Senator.

The fact is there were six candidates, not three as mentioned by the AP.

The Socialist Labor Party, besides running candidates for Governor, Lt. Gov., and Comptroller also had a candidate for the Senate.

His name is John Emanuel, a farm worker, not a politician.

As a staunch member of the Socialist Labor Party, I am very proud of the way the Socialist Labor Party candidates conducted themselves in the recent campaign.

In contrast to other parties, the SLP candidates did not make a cheap bid for votes by indulging in reform bait promises, but stressed the validity of making the much needed imperative change from capitalism to socialism.

Sooner or later the working class majority is bound to accept the solution offered by the Socialist Labor Party.

Kaimin readers who are not familiar with the Socialist Labor Party are invited to write for free literature to the SLP, P.O. Box 200, Brooklyn, N.Y. 11202.

Harvard man satirizes teacher evaluation

To the editor:

Here is a satire of the teacher evaluation process that might make for timely inclusion in the Kaimin. It comes from the Modern Language Association Newsletter:

This morning I visited Socrates' class. I was disturbed to discover that he was not inside the temple where I expected to find him. I observed a bunch of students sitting on the steps outside the temple and joined them to await his arrival. Socrates finally appeared, though I cannot tell what time it was because the weather was overcast.

Socrates did not start his class immediately and I had the impression that he was pensive or sleepy. He did not take attendance and obviously did not object to the fact that some students were lying on the ground and that some others were, I hate to say, bare-footed.

I was startled by the fact that Socrates did not remain standing in front of the class. On the contrary, he began walking, forcing all the students to follow him aimlessly.

Otherwise, Socrates' class was lively. He seems to know his subject and does not use notes. It seemed to me, however, that sometimes his constant questioning might convey a feeling of discomfort among the students. This might come from the fact that Socrates had obviously no planned activities and his only teaching technique is class discussion, which too often dealt with ideas which generally were far too advanced for the students.

Socrates' Greek was flawless.

Grizzlies shoot past Coyotes, 69-65

Tips rebound with win over USD

By JACK TANNER
Montana Kaimin Reporter

Montana last night shook off its losing-the-first-game doldrums to post a 69-65 win over a young University of South Dakota squad in Vermillion, S.D.

The Coyotes jumped to an early lead, but couldn't hold it as the Grizzly offense got rolling midway through the first half and hung on for the win.

The USD five capitalized on Tip errors early in the match to take a 12-3 lead before Grizzly guard Mike Vernon put on an 11 point scoring barrage to tie the game for the first of five times, 14-14.

The lead changed hands 11 times in the remainder of the half before Montana forward Earl Tye sunk a free throw with one second remaining to give the Tips a 31-30 lead going into the lockers at half-time.

The Grizzlies roared out in the second half, increasing the lead to 11 points, 55-44 at the halfway point.

From then on, Montana coasted with the win, being threatened only once when the Coyotes narrowed the margin to three.

Senior guard Mike Heroux tossed in five consecutive free throws to lengthen the Grizzly lead to eight with less than three minutes in the game.

The Tips attempted a stall in the last minutes, but saw their lead cut to four at the final buzzer.

Sophomore center Chuck Iverson was the game's leading scorer, marking 17 points, 10 in the first half. The Montana defense held him to only one field goal in the second period. Iverson also took game rebounding honors, grabbing 16 for the Coyotes.

Grizzly back courtmen Mike Vernon and Don Wetzel led the Tips in the scoring column with 14 each. Center Ray Howard, who missed much of the first half with foul trouble, and his replacement, Howard Clark, each netted 10 for Montana. Clark was the Tips' leading rebounder with 14.

Mark Widenfield and Doug Moody each scored 13 for the losing Coyotes.

Montana shot 37.7 per cent from the field, while South Dakota could manage only 32.4 per cent.

Montana's starting front court men, Tye, Howard and Lonzo Lewis, fouled out in the second half. However, no South Dakota players fouled out in the contest that saw 22 fouls called on Montana and 21 on the Coyotes.

Montana's next action will come Monday in Pullman, Wash., when the Tips meet WSU.

Keglers end season with victory

Grizzly bowlers finished the Fall Quarter season by downing Western Montana College 18-2 at the University Center lanes.

UM keggers won all four points in the team event. Grizzly Bob Johnson won the singles class with 652; Ron Hansen and Tom Schmidt of UM took second and third places.

Hansen and Schmidt won the doubles event with 1,225. Ron Malloy and Dave Tschache placed second in the doubles.

WMC scored its only two points when Jim Shea took fourth place in the singles event and Tim Corbett and Kerry Koenig took third in doubles.

UM coach Rick Kelly said there will be seven matches next quarter. The College of Great Falls will host the first match on Jan. 22, and the keggers will meet Northern Montana College in Havre Jan. 23.

Kelly said tryouts for next quarter's bowling team will start Jan.

12. He said freshmen are eligible for varsity bowling.

There are 18 bowlers on the team, and Kelly said those with averages above 180 will not have to requalify for their place on the team.

"Only five members exceed this score, so there will be 13 spots open for next quarter," he said.

The final individual averages of the bowlers are as follows: Tom Miller, 184; Bob Johnson, 183; Ron Hansen, 183; Doug Johnson, 183; Johnson, 182; Tom Schmidt, 182; Ron Malloy, 179.

Tom Tucker, 178; Dave Tschache, 172; Dan Sidor, 165; Jeff Smith, 163; Rudy Haas, 162; Dennis Ellingson, 160.

Dewey Loge, 158; Bruce Spradlin, 158; Jim Pascal, 158; Denny Rafferty, 156; Bruce Saylor, 155; Herb Abel, 146.
